PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

January, 2022

Dear Friends,

It is time to present a report on our activities during the past year and extend to you, on behalf of all of us associated with SOS Children's Villages Pakistan, very best wishes for a wonderful, happy and prosperous New Year. May this year be good for you personally, for our beloved Pakistan, and for all those in difficult situations, everywhere. May the new year usher in better times for all, and may our hopes for a better tomorrow be realized. This will not happen without the contribution of all of us, and, for our part, we renew our pledge to continue to serve the orphans and abandoned children, with dedication and commitment.

We are approaching a half century of service, and I marvel at how much it has been possible to achieve, entirely with your support. We are proof that if one is sincere in their mission, no hill is too high to climb. There are many who will join to make it a reality. It also means the combined efforts of ever so many dedicated volunteers who ensure the maintenance of high standards to oversee a network spread all over the country is not easy, and our volunteers are our secret strength. My sincere thanks to all of them and to all of you who support our work. We now have 60 projects all over Pakistan, of which 32 are exclusively for orphans. The rest are community schools, technical training centres, and medical facilities. Covid-19 presented many challenges for us, as it did for everyone. The residents in all the projects had to be protected and, at the same time, not overwhelmed by the confinement. The National Office laid down SOPs which were strictly enforced, and the Village Directors did a splendid job in keeping their premises sealed and the children occupied. As we were beginning to relax a little and looking forward to some normalcy in our lives, we are confronted by yet another variant of this dreaded virus. Shortly we will become fully aware of the implications and will have to plan accordingly.

Reports from the facilities are attached and give an overview of the lives of the children. To the directors, mothers, and other coworkers who take good care of them, I would like to express my deepest gratitude. They ensure that the needs of the children are properly met and that their lives are well organized, whilst also catering to their emotional needs. You will note the similarity of the reports but this reflects the success of the National Office in calibrating the programme, wheresoever it is introduced. The children celebrate all national days with great enthusiasm and, what is most touching, is the genuine warmth with which they honour their house mothers on Mothers Day. Many kind friends contribute to their happiness with events organized in the Village or fun filled outings to interesting venues outside. These activities make their lives joyful and help round their personalities, ensuring they lack for nothing. On the contrary, what we are able to give these children is, sadly, denied to many of their peers. Apart from the threat of Covid we are all faced with another serious threat - that of unprecedented inflation. This has impacted every aspect of our lives, as prices skyrocket. For a long time, we have resisted raising the rate of sponsorship, though our actual expenses were much more, and met the difference through general donations and donations in kind. Now, this has become unmanageable and we are, perforce, raising the monthly sponsorship to Rs.15,000. For those sponsors who do not opt to pay the enhanced amount, we will allocate a partial sponsor who will pay the additional Rs. 5000. The sponsorship department will coordinate this with you. Despite the restrictions of Covid on every aspect of our lives, we were able to carry on with the construction of new projects, albeit at a slower pace. The Primary School and Girls High School, attached to the SOS Children's Village in Sundgran, Muzaffarabad have recently been completed and will be occupied as soon as they have been furnished. In anticipation of the school being completed, a temporary school is functioning in accommodation provided within the Village. There are already 78 SOS children and 130 outsiders enrolled, and they are eagerly looking forward to entering the beautiful new facilities. Our sincere thanks to the SOS Children's Villages - USA Pakistan Supporters Group for raising funds for the construction of both the schools. Several more projects are under construction and nearing completion. Midsummer will see the completion of the SOS Children's Village Rawalakot and, by the end of the year, the Girls High School and Boys High School in that complex, will be completed.

The construction of the Village has been made possible by multiple donors, donating the individual family homes. The schools have been donated by H.H Sheikha Jawaher bint Mohammed Al Qasimi, wife of H.H. the Ruler of Sharjah through The Big Heart Foundation. An SOS Children's Home in Multan is nearing completion. It will be ready by May and accommodate 100 children. The major donor for the project is Dr. Tahira Izhar who has dedicated this to the memory of her parents. Another SOS Children's Home will be ready by the end of the year in Mangal, near the Dhodial Village. The major donor for this is Sultan Ishaque and it will accommodate 80 children. You may recall that a few years ago I informed you that we now plan to establish an SOS Children's Home in conjunction with every SOS Children's Village. The difference between the two is that the Homes are specifically for the children of women headed families, giving them the option of holding a job outside or staying with their children and working with SOS. We have two Homes in Lahore, one in Kharian and another in Mangal. The Multan one is under construction and in Karachi, is in the planning stage. Apart from these additions it has been decided to establish SOS Children's Villages, with the essential ancillary projects, in two deprived regions of the country – South Punjab and Tharparkar. We have applied to the government for land in Rahim Yar Khan and land for the project in Islamkot has been donated by Dr. Panjwani, MNA from Tharparkar. We will now start planning these projects and invite you all to consider participating.

On Universal Children's Day, the Social Welfare Department Punjab held a grand event in Hazoori Bagh, Lahore Fort. A shield was presented to SOS Children's Villages Pakistan in 'recognition of their unparalleled services to the community.' You, our donors, sponsors, support groups in the UK, USA, and Canada, and Managing Committee volunteers, enable us to achieve such accolades. Without you, it would be impossible to achieve all we have. Once again, heartfelt gratitude to all of you. May you be blessed for your concern.

With warm regards,

Souriya Anwar
President
